

Cookie policy

Introduction:

The purpose of this policy is to describe what cookies are, what we use them for, and how you can manage them during your visit to, or use of our website. This policy works alongside our privacy policy.

What are cookies?

A 'cookie' is small piece of data (usually in the form of a text file) which may be placed on your device when you visit our website. These files do not contain personal data, but they do contain a personal identifier allowing us to associate your personal data with a certain device, i.e. it helps us to "remember" user behaviour. As a user, you are able to accept or decline cookies.

Why do we use cookies?

These files serve a number of useful purposes for you, including:

- ensuring the website functions correctly;
- improving how our website performs.

The types of cookies we use:

These cookies may be deleted from your device at different times, such as at the end of your browsing session (when you leave the website) or after a pre-set amount time, or they may persist on your device until you delete them.

We use the following types of cookies:

- Site analytics cookies – collecting information about how you use the website.

Deleting cookies:

If you wish to delete the cookies, please refer to your device manual or website manual for instructions.

Consent:

We only use cookies if you have given us your consent by selecting YES. If you have previously granted consent and you wish to withdraw it, you can do so by selecting NO.

Third parties may also use cookies. You must take care that if you access linked websites, you inspect how they use cookies. We are not responsible for how third parties control the use of cookies.

Cookies placed on your device can always be deleted manually.
